

(2) the terms and conditions for the conveyance of that property, including any terms and conditions that the Board considers necessary to protect the interests of the United States.

(3) DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.—The exact acreage and legal description of the real property to be conveyed under subsection

(a) shall be determined by a survey satisfactory to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Board. The cost of the survey shall be borne by the party or parties to which the property is to be conveyed.

(4) CONGRESSIONAL NOTIFICATION.—(1) Before disposing of real property under subsection (a), the Armed Forces Retirement Home Board shall notify the Committee on Armed Services of the Senate and the Committee on National Security of the House of Representatives of the proposed disposal. The Board may not dispose of the real property until the later of—

(5) the date that is 60 days after the date on which the notification is received by the committees; or

(6) the date of the next day following the expiration of the first period of 30 days of continuous session of Congress that follows the date on which the notification is received by the committees.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1)—

(7) continuity of session is broken only by an adjournment of Congress sine die; and

(8) the days on which either House is not in session because of an adjournment of more than three days to a day certain are excluded in the computation of any period of time in which Congress is in continuous session.

Subtitle F—Other Matters

SEC. 1061. POLICY ON PROTECTION OF NATIONAL INFORMATION President. INFRASTRUCTURE AGAINST STRATEGIC ATTACK.

(9) REPORT REQUIREMENT.—Not later than 180 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall submit to Congress a report setting forth a national policy on protecting the national information infrastructure against strategic attack.

(10) MATTERS TO BE INCLUDED.—The policy described in the report shall include the following:

(11) Plans to meet essential Government and civilian needs during a national security emergency associated with a strategic attack on elements of the national information infrastructure the functioning of which depend on networked computer systems.

(12) The identification of information infrastructure functions that must be performed during such an emergency.

(13) The assignment of responsibilities to Federal departments and agencies, and a description of the roles of Government and industry relating to indications and warning of, assessment of, response to, and reconstitution after, potential strategic attacks on the elements of the national information infrastructure described under paragraph (1).

(c) UNRESOLVED ISSUES.—The report shall also identify—

(1) matters relating to the national policy described in the report that, as of the submission of the report, are in need of further study and resolution, such as technology and funding shortfalls; and
